HANSEL AND GRETEL

Read the texts in the boxes and number them from 1 to 8 to sequence the fairy tale.

□

When evening came, the children heard their stepmother's wailing again. She wanted to leave the little boy and girl in the forest near them. Their father refused, but he could not see the stepmother anymore again. Hansel wanted to be called possible again, but the stepmother was looking at him in the morning. They woke up early.

□

The girl Hansel's hand and foot were in a room. She wanted to eat him when he got into the kitchen. Hansel wanted to look for delicious food. Gretel could not stand it. The witch had a plan. She said, "When the sun is in the sky, go to the forest and look for a little house and the witch thought she was too late to eat."

□

Gretel was scared and she thought they would die, but Hansel comforted her. He had a plan. He went outside and filled his pockets with pebbles. When the witch was sleeping, their stepmother gave them pieces of bread and they set off for the woods. On the way Hansel dropped a pebble every few steps.

□

When they woke up, they realized that they were in a very dark place. They decided to walk and find their way to home. They were very hungry and tired, when they saw a house made of biscuits, cake and sugar. They started eating pieces of the house. An old lady came out and invited them in. She was actually a witch.

□

They were happy because they had food and bread. Their stepmother told them to go and wait for their father. The children were in the woods, but nobody came. It was evening. They ate the house and sugar in the house. Next morning, they followed the path to find Hansel and Gretel, and returned home. Their father was so happy.

□

One day the old witch became angry and decided to cook her. As she was preparing the oven, Gretel invited her into it and closed her brother. They took the witch's green hair for food and went back home. Their stepmother had lost and their father was very happy when he saw his children alive. They lived a wonderful life.

□

Their stepmother gave them even smaller pieces of bread this time. Children were Hansel dropped some behind him. They waited for a long time and nothing happened. Their stepmother told them to wait for their again. They shared a piece of bread and fell asleep. When the witch was, it was done. They decided to go back in the morning.

□

Once upon a time there were two children, Hansel and Gretel, who lived with their father and stepmother. Their father was a woodcutter. They were so poor. One night they heard their stepmother saying that they should get out of the house or they will die of starvation. The father didn't want to do this, but could not see any way.

Pinocchio

Once upon a time, a woodcutter found a big lump of wood, good for making a table. But when he cut it, he heard a cry. Aah! Aah! The sound came from the wood.

The woodcutter was very frightened. Immediately, he gave away the wood to a cobbler. The cobbler made a puppet out of it.

At night a fairy appeared in front of the cobbler and said, "You have a nice puppet here. I'll make it nicer by giving it a life."

And so! The puppet turned into a real boy.

The cobbler was so happy. He named the boy Pinocchio.

Pinocchio was a very naughty boy. He always disturbed his father in his work. The cobbler used to shout at him, "You naughty boy, one day I'll box your ears!" But the cobbler loved little Pinocchio very much.

One day Pinocchio suddenly went out of his house and did not come for two days. His father was very worried. He missed Pinocchio very much. He

The Case of the Hungry Clown

The smell of popcorn and cotton candy filled the circus tent. Music was playing, and clowns were performing in the center ring. People were everywhere. Sam Sherlock and his niece, Wendy, were having a wonderful time looking at all the circus acts. Wendy liked the elephants best.

"Come on," said Sam to Wendy, "let's go buy some cotton candy. Look at that beautiful, pink spun sugar. It really does look like cotton."

"I like it when it just melts in my mouth," said Wendy.

Wendy was holding her cotton candy in one hand and holding onto Sam with the other. Suddenly, something or someone pushed against her, and her candy was taken right out of her hand. "Nice Sam," she cried, "my cotton candy is gone!"

Sam looked around, and all he could see were dozens of clowns. The clowns all had green hair under their funny caps - all but one, that is. That clown had pink hair.

"I think I know who took your cotton candy, Wendy."

Do you know?

2) The sad camel It's a beautiful story - told from the perspective of a camel (with the most amazing sound effects). 7) Salman the Persian This is the story of a sahabi - companion of Prophet () - Salman Farsi (رضي الله عنه). Different kids have different learning styles. There's just a basket shown and the background baby sounds are just too cute. Sometimes journey was easy. My kids get screen time only once a week and I'm extremely picky about the stuff they watch, so Miraj Stories is our main go-to app each Friday. My fav part is the rhyme of this book. Mini Games: 26) Kamal the kangaroo makes wudu Kamal is a kangaroo who doesn't like to wake up for Fajr and we have to tickle him to wakefulness. Even though seerah is full of independent stories - where everyone did their own chores as long as they could and helped each other instead of weighing - who did how much and who did what. 15) Maryam and Isa (عليهم السلام) The story of Maryam and Isa revolves around the miracle of his speech during infancy. After a number of years on their journey of producing quality Islamic audio content, a wonderful app was produced that offers educational games, interactive books, audio books and animations. It's based around the following hadith: Narrated Abdullah ibn Mas'ud: ... MESSENGER OF ALLAH () saw an ant village that we had burnt. It revolves around a true battle but the plot and characters have been vividly re-imagined to create an absorbing adventurous story. But brave as he was in a battle, this servant of Allah was also wise and compassionate. As the numbers increase from 0 to 9, they become more difficult. You can hear the audio sample HERE. When my niece was small (she's now almost 7), I remember I used to take the videos of the famous rhymes etc. It's a story of a father and a son who goes out with a donkey to the market. Often - it was hard. When future incidents reveal how that was for the best, we realise what a fool we were to not trust Allah's plan - that he shared things with others". As a result, my 4-year-old gives me options on what to do when her 1-year-old sister cries. 30) Arabic numbers (arba & khamsa) Arba and his friend number 4 try to catch 4 butterflies. I asked my 4-year old which was her favourite story and she said Musa (walay salam ﷺ) and the Fire. Alhamdulillah for the diversity Allah has placed in this world. You may complement the story of Adam while discussing Allah's name "al Khaaliq" (the Creator) - discussed in the 3rd section. I love the simplicity of these picture books - introducing the very basics and leaving out the hard truths and details from the Prophet stories. I just wished they used the name Yunus instead of Jonah. The whole book is filled with English words starting with that sound (example given in next point). The man said to himself "This dog is suffering from the same state of thirst as I did." So he went down the well (again) and filled his shoe (with water) and held it in his mouth and watered the dog. Al wadud, we both pray. Meanwhile he saw a dog panting and licking mud because of excessive thirst. It's said that Al-Qaswa' was the name of the Prophet's one of the 3 she-camels; the other two were named Al-Jad'aa, and Al-Adhaa'. In this story, the user has to clean the camel, give her water, feed her healthy treats, get her ready for traveling, etc. Fear is needed for our survival. Although it's allowed to fight for your property, this was a great lesson because the leader of the robbery gang comes to the straight path as a result of his truth and tawakkal Allah. 9) Saib and din and the frankish boy Centuries ago, the great Muslim leader Saib ad-Din united the Islamic world. The story is told in an arrogant voice of a pearl who humbles down as life pushes her around. 10) The ants and the Prophet It's a gripping story - told from the perspective of an ant - Jamal and Jameela (2 baby ants) who get stuck in fire after not listening to their father, but they get rescued by their father (ant) in the end. But this (warning) only increased him and the Muslims in Faith and they said: 'Allah (Alone) is sufficient for us, and He is the Best Disposer of affairs (for us)". That we should know what Allah wants from us, what our hearts want, and then we stick to it and stick up for it too. It's said in a hadith: When (Prophet) Ibrahim was thrown into the fire, he said: 'Allah (Alone) is sufficient for us, and He is the Best Disposer of affairs.' So did Messenger of Allah Muhammad () when he was told: "A great army of the pagans had gathered against him, so fear them". 20) Nasruddin and the pumpkin tree It's the story of the same father (Nasruddin), his son, and the donkey who set out for a picnic. You may get the app (free trial before deciding upon a subscription) yourself HERE! Islamic Audio Stories for Aural Learning I and my daughter usually use the audio stories at night - the days when I'm too exhausted to read a book and Miraj stories come to the rescue ☺ It's a good way to wind down. There are games with different difficulty levels in each section. 13) Yusuf and Musa (عليهم السلام) Story of Yusuf (عليه السلام) narrates his life from he was thrown into the well and how he turned into a kind later on. READ: How to Make Children's Islamic Education Interactive (with FREE printable books) This post is sponsored by Miraj Stories Use the link above for the discount. They couldn't find appropriate quality Islamic media for their son and decided to produce it themselves. 29) Arabic numbers (sifr & waahid) It's an adorable story of sifr (zero in Arabic) and zero (English numeral) playing hide and seek with each other. That's letter 'baa'. 28) Al-Qaswa needs your help I loved how Muhammad (saw) named his animals too. 25) Arabic letters (daam to yaa) Like - "letter haa makes a hat out of hay for harry, her hamster. There are 3 main types of learners: Aural learners (who need to HEAR to learn), visual learners (who need to SEE to learn), and kinesthetic learners (who need to DO to learn). 40 gold coins were sewn in his cloth at the armpit side and when he gets robbed, even though the robbers find nothing with him, he tells them that the coins are in his armpit because they ask him what he had. It also talks about zaaboor and the beautiful voice of prophet Dawud (عليه السلام). He sends the message of Allah to the queen who then visits him and accepts Islam after seeing his genuine da'wah (when he didn't accept her bundles and bundles of gifts). How he came to Islam after researching many religions in depth. It's a good lesson on how we sometimes fail to see a bigger picture in life. I tell her, sharing isn't an obligation, but sharing brings barakah in your own things too - which means that the happiness you are getting from your things becomes double even if it doesn't increase in quantity, it increases in quality through the blessings we get from sharing. 12) Ibrahim and Yunus (عليهم السلام) The story of Ibrahim (عليه السلام) starts with Allah () starts with and his family in the desert. Who made the moon, the stars, the sun of this world and how she chose a resting place for Prophet (saw) in Medina and how she accompanied Prophet (saw) in his 1st and last pilgrimage unfolds one by one. The moon glows like a firefly. Sometimes water needs to be thrown over him. A young man from the Ansar came and said "This is mine, Apostle of Allah()." He said "Don't you fear Allah about this beast which Allah has given in your possession? So I share and to be honest - it DOES bring barakah because we all get full with the same coconut nonetheless ☺☺ 18) The thirsty dog This story is based on the following beautiful hadith: Allah's Messenger () said, "While a man was walking on a road. The people around criticize them for their choices (of either not using the donkey to their advantage or loading him with too much weight, either not putting the child on a donkey or the father not sitting on the donkey). 27) Kamal the kangaroo loves to pray This is another story game of the same kangaroo who we have to get ready for prayer - from finding appropriate clothes for him to spreading his prayer mat and choosing the salah steps. It was very time consuming and since I wasn't married back then (I didn't have my own kids), it was doable (we still have those embarrassing videos ☹). You can see one of the clips HERE. So it became silent. Then baby waahid (Arabic number one) and one (English numeral) are sitting on feeding chairs crying and the player has to give them several options so the baby calms down. Videos/animations: 16) Nasruddin and the donkey I don't know for what reason my daughter is in love with this story, but I sure love it for the lesson it gives. It could easily be an actual print book. They keep changing their actions based on what people mock them for and it's a great lesson on how we all need a strong sense of identity and a strong sense of right and wrong. I loved the diverse characters as it's so hard to find in any form of media nowadays. It's a small phrase to teach kids when you tell them the story of Ibrahim (عليه السلام). All of a sudden when a Camel saw the Prophet (), it wept tenderly producing yearning sound and its eyes flowed. The story of Nuh (عليه السلام) revolves around the building of the ship. There are so many things that she learned - even though I never told her those things - for eg: Abu Bakr (RA) was Muhammad ()'s best friend. Following are some of our favorite picture and video stories: Picture Books (stories of the Prophets for kids): 11) Adam and Nuh (عليهم السلام) The creation of Adam is the first story to start with when you're exploring Tawheed with your children. This means that the hardest part is when my kids demand that I narrate the story with the sound effects ☺ The story is based around the following hadith: Prophet () entered the garden of a man from the Ansar. The Messenger of Allah () came and said: Who grieved this for its young ones? Then there's also a tiny intro of how Kabah was created. Instead of a flood, the words of constant rain are used. It makes him look handsome." If you're teaching kids Arabic along with English, you'd know how they mix things up sometimes and this is a perfect mesh of both without compromising on any. 24) Arabic letters (alif to khaa) In this interactive book, each letter from alif to khaa has a story of its own. 5) Leyla the sparrow It's a very cute story - told from the perspective of a bird whose children she deeply loves. It is based around the following hadith: Narrated Abdullah ibn Mas'ud: We were with the Messenger of Allah () during a journey. But with my own kids in the mix and barely any free time in my hands, I wanted ready made music-free content. Then both friends' laugh "baaa..baaa...". - You get the subtle introduction of phonics? It's a good lesson to not only give to our daughters, but also to our sons if we want to raise independent men - just like we strive to raise independent girls. 23) Al-Qaswa - the special camel Al-Qaswa was the camel that Prophet (saw) often mounted - in Hajj while traveling to Makkah when he came to Medina, etc. It's the boy's journey from anger to love. It begins by the sea when a seagull drops an oyster shell on a rock and a lovely pearl rolls out. It has complained to me that you keep it hungry and load it heavily which fatigues it." [Sunan Abi Dawud] 3) The gift of sands This is a story about jewels, arrogance, and gratitude. Sometimes we play these games together because they are so educational that they open up many discussions for us alhamdulillah. Story of Yunus (عليه السلام) narrates his journey of being disappointed with his nation to his journey on a boat and then into the mouth of a whale and back to his nation. You can book your trial class with Mishkah Academy for online Quran, Arabic, and Islamic Studies with a tutor. ☺ You all may already know how Ibrahim (عليه السلام) was thrown into the fire and he came out of it unharmed as the fire cooled down for him. It will help them take control of their fear (it's not like fear will completely go. It helps instill empathy in us. 22) Alwadd - the Loving One It's a story of 2 brothers fighting over a toy. So basically their most recent "thamaniya and tissa (8 and 9)" game is what I've been playing with my daughter (I mean my daughter watches me as I try to save tissa from the shark and my daughter keeps screaming and I'm like I got this. I got this - and boom - poor tissa) ☺ You can download the app HERE to experience more Islamic stories divided into audio, picture, video, and interactive (game) formats. But the phrase helps the fear not overtake you). Adapted from the book "Muslim Child: A Collection of Short Stories and Poems" by Rukhsana Khan - like I love Eid, Azeza's first fast, Fajr, the year of the elephant, lost at haji, etc. And then the kids apply it on me when I'm sitting in one corner sipping on my coconut juice. 4 year old: "Ama share it with us (her and her sister) for more barakah" Me: "takes bigger gulps till their tiny feet reach me" Jokes apart, we have to model the behavior we want the kids to adopt. When Hamid, a boy in Salah ad-Din's camp, catches a young crusader enemy - Salah ad-Din encourages friendship between them. We replied: We. He said: It is not proper to punish with fire except the Lord of fire. But the boy in this story kept going, and in the end, he won his reward and found Islam - the truth. But the story of that pearl ends far, far away, after all kinds of strange and exciting adventures. So I told my daughter - there will be many things that you will do differently from people (especially in this part of the world where she is constantly surrounded by non-Muslims) and there will be many things that people won't approve of or mock you for. Story of Adam (عليه السلام) starts from the creation of everything in the world and then shifts to Adam (عليه السلام). 14 (السماء). Bawood and Sulaiman (عليهم السلام) The story of Dawud (عليه السلام) focuses on bravery who throws a stone at the giant who challenges the whole army to fight him. "The light is fading in the sky. Alhamdulillah, my kids have grown up seeing their father being helpful around the house, but it's a mindset that many families have to still struggle with. But you should know what Allah wants and what YOU want (because our hearts are great barometers of conscience) - and that's enough! 17) The selfish monkey Whenever my eldest one doesn't want to share anything with her little sister, she says to me "I don't want to share like that monkey in the Miraj story" ☺ and I ask her - "so what did the monkey learn from the Prophet saw? The wise owl sends them both to observe the Prophet (saw) in Medina and the husband gets shocked while looking through a monocular that he's helping his wife although that's his wife's job according to him...By the end, he learns his lesson of helping her in her house chores and emulating the sunnah of the Prophet (saw). So following is a breakdown of Islamic prophetic and moral stories into these 3 learning styles. She is found by a boy who was in dire need of her. Our fav is baa - one of the 2 sheep sunbathing on the beach say in a sheep-ish voice "look, a boat!" and the other says "that's not a boat. Because people will always have something to say. Then the tiny intro of how Makkah came into being and Ramzan sprouted. He asked: Who has burnt this? The wife does all the work while the husband lounges around. The pearl thinks she is destined for a Sultan's crown, but she finds in the end that contentment lives in a thankful heart. Its circle is so clear and bright. They are now a team of skilled audio producers and sound designers, professional writers and editors, dedicated educationalists and religious consultants with expertise in classical Arabic, the Qur'an and Hadith. Inside my pocket safe and sound. The poems explain the Divine names through childhood experiences to help kids deepen their understanding of Allah. Knowing how your child learns best can save you a lot of frustration. Nasruddin questions why Allah has put the pumpkins on the ground and walnuts on the trees. Story of Sulaiman (عليه السلام) discusses how hoopoe tells him about the nation of Sheba and their queen. It's a story of truth and valour - how a son kept his promise of truth because his mother asked him to never lie. The Islamic audio books initiative was started by two parents living in the West - Abdul Mateen, who is a sound designer and Adiba, who is a radio producer. 9) Beautiful Names of Allah "The beautiful names of Allah" is a collection of poems for children aged 4 to 8. Others might need more hands-on learning experiences to learn the best way they can. The Prophet () came to it and wiped the temple of its head. READ: How to Make Children's Islamic Education Interactive (with FREE printables) FB Comments comments Sometimes the alarm needs to be turned on. A boy who went on such long journeys that before he reached halfway he had grown into a man. I ask my mum, I ask my mum. Each name of Allah interactive book has a tracing page and it ends with a puzzle. She was scared so she was shouting hasbunAllah as she ran after her sister. ☺ Then I saw her coming back with a dangling 1-year-old in her arms alhamdulillah. I said - you mean Ibrahim (عليه السلام) (living being)? The bird came and began to spread its wings. Fill our hearts with love today". When I first came across Miraj Stories, the quality of their sound design really impressed me, then came the app and this will be my third year purchasing the full-year subscription in shaa Allah. Puts us right when we go wrong. Return its young ones to it...[Sunan Abi Dawud] 6) Abdul Qadir's treasure It's a goosebump-ish story of the famous Islamic scholar from the past - Abdal Qadir Gilani, who travel to Baghdad for wisdom and knowledge. [Sunan Abi Dawud] Islamic Picture & Video Stories for Visual Learning My daughter usually uses the video stories when I have to put the baby to nap or I am too tired and just want to crash. Please note that I can't mention the whole story here, but I can write about our experiences with those stories. Instead of telling that the bad people drowned, it only tells that the good people were saved. Then his hair needs to be combed and his teeth have to be brushed. Whose Camel is this? I want to pull it from the night. You can listen to a sample HERE. he became very thirsty. 4) Muslim child A collection of 8 short stories that offer a glimpse into the daily lives of Muslim children around the world. If someone as pure as Prophet Muhammad () wasn't free from criticism, who are we to be left behind. The story of Qaswa starts with a tiny intro of hijrah (which marks the beginning of the Islamic calendar) - how Qaswa carried the Prophet () across a desert from Makkah to Medina. [Bukhari] Now whenever my daughter is afraid, I remind her to say HasbunAllah like Ibrahim (عليه السلام) did. Then he came across a well, got down into it, drank (of its water) and then came out. He then said "Who is the master of this Camel? And put it smooth and shiny round. Story of Musa (عليه السلام) is one of my daughter's favourite - probably because of the baby sounds behind the picture book. Allah thanked him for that deed and forgave him." The people asked, "O Allah's Messenger () Is there a reward for us in serving the animals?" He said, "(Yes) There is a reward for serving any animate (living being)". [Sahih al-Bukhari 6090] 19) Once upon a time in Medina (The Lazy Rat) This is a story that perhaps ladies might want to see with their husbands. It's a story of 2 rats - wife and husband. Because it got confusing for my 4-year-old at first. How Maryam's mother wanted a boy so she could dedicate him to worship of Allah, but upon the birth of a baby girl - she still goes ahead with her promise with Allah (even though it wasn't the norm of that era). Islamic Interactive Stories & Games for Kinesthetic Learning If my husband takes my 4 year old to the office with him - on days when I need a break or the baby sick, this is a part of the survival kit -p (along with snacks and activity books). Some kids can learn and memorise things just by constantly listening to them, while some may not learn that way and may need some visual aid, and dub over them myself to make it music-free for her. Following are some of our favourite audio stories: 1) Ibrahim and the Fire I've kept this story on number one because it's my daughter's favorite. Then wudu steps are chosen for him to follow along (and that's how a child learns the steps as well). He went to ease himself. Which may sometimes be hard to explain to young kids. We lie down and listen to it while we drift off to sleep (yes, I end up sleeping with the kids even though I have 101 plans in my mind for the time "when kids sleep"). Listen to the samples HERE. Sometimes there's a koo-koo-roo sound that wakes him up. So he imagines a pumpkin tree and soon realises that the pumpkin falling on their heads would have been a disaster. 'Salah ad-Din and the Frankish Boy' teaches children about the qualities of leadership and the importance of compassion towards others regardless of their background. The other day my 1-year-old ran out of the house and I sent the 4-year old after her. The game gives us options to prepare Kamal - the unwilling kangaroo kid for his salah. We saw a bird with her two young ones and we captured her young ones. The boy gets angry easily because he then bites his friend and then sits on a thinking chair - where his thoughts revolve like "Alwadd the loving one. Following are some of our favorite interactive stories and games: Interactive Books: 21) Alkhalq - the Creator It's a very simple story of a girl with a mind full of wonder - starting from the night and ending at the day, it talks about how Al-Khaliq the Creator made everything for us.
